TCA DESCRIPTION

Themes and goals: The aim of this thematic contact making seminar is to facilitate networking among organisations, from across Europe, working on the development and delivery of guidance for young people and adults. The event will bring together experts, practitioners and others from the fields of adult education (AE) and vocational education and training (VET) to provide thematic inputs, explore key challenges and to consider areas for possible future partnership and collaboration which might be potentially financed through Erasmus+. During the event, participants will have the opportunity to extend their knowledge and understanding of development priorities for guidance, building networks and partnerships with individuals and institutions looking to improve and enhance existing guidance services and provision.

Expected results: Key Topics: During the event, the following topics (among others) can expect to be explored: o challenges for meaningful guidance provision in the context of insecure employment and models of guidance that can best respond to this reality; o the role of guidance in building resilience and promoting coping (career management, career resilience) skills; o guidance and its role in the validation of non-formal and informal learning (identification, documentation, assessment, certification); o the role of digital technologies in the provision of guidance to adults and young people.
